Sleeping, wondering on how long it will take. Days? Weeks? Years?
The earth's breathing telling me. IT'S TIME I came out of the earth, and saw all of the other trees around me, top through the soil I pushed,
a patient with the potential to become a towering
giant
Years have gone by quickly
Still waiting like a water droplet

In the Council Garden,
there is a BLACK
WALNUT TREE.

JUGLANS nigra.

Seeds have dropped and saplings of this tree are in abundance.

Join us at the BMA for a conversation about the walnut tree. We will lift and pot up these saplings in the hope of finding new homes for them to flourish.

Dip a brush or pen into BMA very own black walnut ink for some drawing and calligraphy.

RSVP to AEwin@bma.org.uk Please state your approximate preferred time to the garden. The workshop is a drop in, stay as little or as long as you can
